Indirect Fired Heaters

What advantages does an Indirect Heater Have?

Indirect heat eliminates combustion products, which can cause dizziness, burning eyes and nausea. The unit can be kept a safe distance away from party tents by connecting ducts to the front cap outlets.

Indirect fired heaters use significantly less fuel than direct fired heaters since your worksite can be totally closed in and there is no need for ventilation that direct fired heaters must have.

FROST FIGHTER INDIRECT FIRED HEATERS

Unlike a direct-fired heater, the Frost Fighter provides clean air, free from moisture and contaminated fumes.

2.2 MILLION BTU DIRECT DUAL FUEL HEATERS

These direct fired, fan assisted gas blowers will warm up any area quickly. The output is adjustable, thermostatically controlled and is effective for heating large job sites.

Direct Fired Heaters

Direct fired heaters are built rugged and durable specifically for the construction industry's harshest winter conditions. We don't just provide you with heaters, we'll make sure you have a complete heating solution to fit your needs. These heaters are clean burning, efficient, and portable.

Radiant Heaters

Radiant Construction Heaters

By using electricity to heat their quartz elements, infra-red radiant heat is emitted aided by a reflector to warm people and objects, not atmosphere. Infra-red heat is localized, because the energy is only released when it encounters a solid mass. Ideal for drafty locations, also suitable for curing paints, glass-fibre, and drying out damp walls.

FLAGRO HEAT CANNON RADIANT HEATER

Thermostatically controlled with filterless design. The heavy duty frame is under 50 pounds. Features recessed controls to eliminate damage. Stackable for easy storage and transportation.

SCHWANK RADIANT CONSTRUCTION HEATERS

Complete R.O.T. Training & Certification
(In-house or on-site)

R.O.T. Training Programs

Ontario Regulations require that all individuals installing, activating, or operating a gas-fired construction heater complete a 'Record of Training' (ROT) certification. Separate certification is needed for Propane and Natural Gas. This certificate must be on hand when the work is performed and presented when the rental companies leave construction heaters at the site.

This ROT course for builders, employees and contractors is available through scheduled classes or on-site training sessions.

Please note that ROT certification is only valid for a 3-year period. After 3 years, you must be recertified. Only residential gas meters having between 1 and 1-1/2 inch motor outlet and a single pressure regulator are permitted to be turned on by a ROT trained individual or non-utility gas technician.

Rental Fence for Propane Enclosures
